PASTOR OFFERS TO RESIGN

Rev. Harold Morehouse Asks For Congregational Vote On Ministry Next Sunday

Rev. Harold Morehouse announced from the pulpit of the Federated Church Sunday morning that a congregational meeting will be held at the close of the morning worship service on Sunday, October 31, for the purpose of acting upon the resignation of the pastor.

Mr. Morehouse said he has been advised that there is considerable dissatisfaction with his ministry and that he has called the congregational meeting so that the church may vote to concur or not to concur with him in a request that the Sacramento Presbytery terminate his ministry here and declare the pulpit vacant.

Rev. Morehouse said Monday morning that because this situation arises shortly following the annual meeting of the Presbytery, some may suspect that he has made contacts in other fields to which he wishes to be free to go.

"This is not true," the pastor declared. "My work here has been pleasant and there is no place that I would rather be than in Placerville. My object in submitting the matter of my resignation to the congregation is to learn whether my ministry is satisfactory to a majority of the congregation."

"If the action of the congregation endorses my ministry, I will be pleased to remain in Placerville. If the congregation does not endorse my ministry, then it is best for all concerned (Continued on Page 4)

Hawaii Prince Held In Death

Beautiful Island Girl Fatally Slashed At Gay Waikiki Party

HONOLULU, (UP) — The Hawaiians' playboy prince, David Kawanakoa, a rich and handsome young man of many escapades, was held in jail for investigation today after a beautiful island girl was slashed to death at a midnight party in his apartment beside Waikiki Beach.

The prince, a grandson of the last reigning Hawaiian king, said his mind was fogged with liquor and he did not know what happened to the girl. She was Arville Kinslea, 21, a part-Hawaiian.

Police had not determined whether the girl was murdered or killed accidentally. The wounds seemed to have been made with the jagged edges of broken dishes or glass.

The prince was on probation for the death of another girl, Felicia Connors, who died in an automobile accident in 1932. He pleaded guilty to a manslaughter charge and was given a five-year sentence, which was suspended.

COUGARS LOSE TO SUTTER CREEK 31 TO 6 AS AIR DEFENSE FAILS

Defeat On Amador County Field Adds Importance To Clash With Sonora At Marcus P. Bennett, Jr., Memorial Park On Saturday Of County Fair Week-End

For seven years El Dorado County High School has been trying to beat Sutter Creek eleven in their annual game. For seven years El Dorado has failed to come close to a win.

This year, with a strong eleven, paced by a powerful line, it looked as though the Cougar dream of beating Sutter Creek might come true. But Saturday, on the turf of the Sutter Creek gridiron, it was "just a repetition of the same old story"—Sutter Creek passing their way to a 31-6 win over the local grid-ders.

"ELIXIR OF DEATH" CLEANUP BEGINS

Federal And State Agents Seek 700 Bottles Over Nation; 36 Known Victims

CHICAGO (UP)—Federal and state agents searched the shelves of country drug stores and doctors' offices today for 700 bottles of an "elixir of death," fearing that uninformed physicians might at any moment prescribe a fatal dose in mistaken belief that it would save a life.

The potion—elixir of sulfanilamide and diethylene glycol—was manufactured as a cure for streptococcus infections, meningitis, and a type of venereal and other diseases. Not until they had administered it to scores of patients did physicians discover that the compound used to dissolve the life giving sulfanilamide was, in many instances, deadly.

Thirty-six persons who were known to have partaken of it are dead. The American Medical Association has received reports of "quite a number" more. Task of the federal and state agents was to inform physicians in secluded districts of the virulent effects of the solution before they could administer it.

Sulfanilamide, a white, crystalline, slightly bitter almost odorless substance, is not deadly. Each fluid ounce of the elixir contains grains of sulfanilamide. The solvent is about 72 per cent diethylene glycol.

The glycol compound, according to Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of A.M.A. Journal, is responsible for the deaths. A similar compound is used in some automobile anti-freeze solutions. Its effects resemble those of bichloride of mercury, for which there is no antidote.

Most treacherous feature of the elixir was the known curative quality of the sulfanilamide. Administered in other forms, it has cured the disease for which the elixir was prescribed.

"Good Earth" To Close Tonight

Empire Screens Notable Story Of China At Popular Prices

The noteworthy screen attainment starring Paul Muni and Luise Rainer, based on the story "The Good Earth," by Pearl S. Buck, closes tonight at the Empire theater.

Showing of the picture, at popular prices, opened on Sunday and the acclaim of the first night audience was an echo of the praise-worthy notices which the film has had in showings throughout the nation.

In addition to the distinguished work of Mr. Muni and Miss Rainer, "The Good Earth" has a cast of Chinese who serve as the background for this great story of the mysterious land of the world's oldest civilization.

For these, we are informed by Miss Ruth Knacke, manager of the Empire, it was necessary for the film studio to erect road signs in Cantonese, Pekinese and Mongolian characters, during the filming of the picture, and post them along the boulevards of Los Angeles and Hollywood, so that the players, many of whom could not read English, could find their way to the proper "location."

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Smith spent a portion of Sunday afternoon at Bass Lake.

C. J. Olson was a caller in Placerville Monday from Pacific House and included this office in his round of calls.

JOHN WINKELMAN OPERATED UPON

County Horticultural Agent Resting Easily Following Surgery On Saturday

John Winkelman, county horticultural agent, was reported as resting easily Monday following an emergency operation for the relief of appendicitis, performed Saturday evening at Placerville Sanatorium.

Mr. Winkelman, who has had charge of the building of the pear and apple displays for the county fair, had been subject to some discomfort during the week but remained at his work long enough to get the major portion of it done before submitting to the operation.

Saturday evening, following examination by Dr. A. A. McKinnon, Winkelman was operated upon at the Sanatorium.

The balance of the work connected with assembling and arranging the major pear and apple displays for the county fair has been taken over by Willard Wilkinson, who was associated with Mr. Winkelman in the work from the start, and by A. C. Winkelman.

Bears May See Rose Bowl

Decisive Win Over Trojans Stirs Hopes; Bruins, Cougars And Cards Stand In Way

By JAMES A. SULLIVAN United Press Staff Correspondent SAN FRANCISCO, (UP) — University of California's path to the Rose Bowl and national titular recognition appeared straight and clear today.

The schedule calls for games with U. C. L. A., already beaten twice and tied once; Washington, also twice beaten and once tied; Oregon, beaten three times by conference opposition, and Stanford, with a record of two wins and two defeats, one of which was by Santa Clara.

Washington might give the Bears a battle and Stanford, playing inspired ball against their most ancient rival, also might put up a fight.

The California varsity line Saturday blasted the Trojan defense like a locomotive hitting a tree and the varsity backs rambled through for 306 yards and three touchdowns in the first 30 minutes. USC's score came in the fourth period when California second team was in and the final tally was 20 to 6.

THE THIN MAN

THE Book Mark

By JANE VOILES

Rainy days and long evenings call for the making of reading lists. We have been saving Gibbon's "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" to head our list of winter reading but somehow, with the approach of winter we decide to save it for summer. As soon as that decision is made, we can turn to the new books and enjoy ourselves.

Historical novels offer a varied choice this season. In "No Hearts to Break" Susan Ertz has written the fiction-biography of Wall's predecessor Betsey Patterson, the Baltimore girl who married Napoleon's brother Jerome. Wasn't there a movie once in which the wistful Dolores Costello took the part of Betsey Patterson? Napoleon himself is the hero of David Pilgrim's novel "So Great a Man." Bruno Frank's "Lost Heritage" is anti-Nazi propaganda, we are told, but Mr. Frank who writes with a magic pen, can make anything interesting.

Francis Brett Young can always be counted upon for good reading. His latest novel is about the great Boer trek of 100 years ago—"They Seek a Country." Another novel about these same Dutch pioneers is "The Turning Wheels" by Stuart Sloete. Louis Bromfield's latest is a novel about India in a Kipling setting. It is called "The Rains Come." Speaking of "place" novels, there is a new one set in Lima, Peru—"Pity the Tyrant" by Hans Otto Storm who, by the way, is positively not the engineer who installed the lighting of the Golden Gate Bridge regardless of what you may have read or heard. Critics give it the highest praise. Oliver La Farge who may be preachy at times but who knows how to tell a story, has a new novel on the Navajos "The Enemy God."

We asked two women who run circulating libraries, what types of novels are most in demand. After the mystery story and the current best seller, both answered, curiously enough, that their patrons ask for novels about doctors and hospitals. That may account in part, for the popularity of A. J. Cronin's "The Citadel" which is all about doctors. For those who want life in the raw, there is a new Hemingway novel out this month "To Have and Have Not." We saw that Joseph Henry Jackson was not too favorably impressed by it in his review. For the gentler reader there is a new novel by Mary Ellen Chase, who is coming to California to lecture this winter, entitled "Dawn in Lyonese." We are sure that by this time everyone has read Marjorie Sharp's gay and giddy book "The Nutmeg Tree." Another novel certain to be popular is Helen Carlisle's "The Merry Merry Maidens."

Two books of short stories that will make grand Christmas gifts after you have read them are Edith Wharton's "Ghosts," a collection of her "psychic" stories and "Pieces of a Fan" by that daring young man who didn't swing on a trapeze but did something more adventurous when he wrote "Personal History" two years ago.

Among the new biographies we note "Andrew Jackson" by Marquis James, a book that has been reviewed frequently both in magazines and over the radio, a "Life of Henry Clay" by G. G. Van Deusen and a biography of Jefferson Davis by Robert McElroy. A timely book is "General Chiang Kai Shek" by Madame Chiang Kai Shek.

If you think that you can stand it, you can try Gertrude Stein's "Everybody's Autobiography." The publishers say that it really makes sense. The autobiography of Mrs. Roosevelt, "This Is My Story," which has been running serially in a magazine will be published this month. Eve Curie has written about her mother, Madame Curie who has been called the greatest woman of science. Incidentally this book is translated from the French by Vincent Sheean. While Helen Wills is not exactly the age to write autobiographies, she has written a book about herself and tennis: "Fifteen Thirty." Some of her classmates at college adored her while others thought that she was just plain snooty. The book may help the public to make up their minds about her. And just for instance, if anyone wants to take a flyer at an old book, there is a freshly-minted edition of "The Letters of Madame de Sevigne," another grand Christmas gift that you can have the fun of reading first, though you may decide to keep it once you read it.

Hendrick's Van Loon's "The Arts" is one of the popularizing kinds of books that may make specialists writhe and scream but we are going to read it anyway, as we know it will fill a lot of gaps in our knowledge. Wasn't it Goethe who said "It does no harm to know something?" Deems Taylor who knows music and the men who are writing it has a new book that will interest general readers and music lovers—"Men and Music."

Interest in clairvoyance and telepathy has been growing amazingly what with radio and magazine articles. Now Comes J. B. Rhine's "New Frontiers of the Mind," a record of scientific investigations written for the layman.

If you like John Thurber—whose work appears in almost every copy of Easier steering, safer vision and a score of new luxury features for the lowest price field are introduced by Plymouth for 1938. Here's the newest Plymouth model, that marks the company's tenth anniversary "Jubilee." A new hood sweeps farther forward to meet the top of the radiator grille, and deeper fenders curve around to a new steel apron across the front (upper right). This year's safety-styled instrument panel (upper left) again offers special protection in case of sudden stops, with control buttons lined up in a special recess at the rounded base of the board. Note the bigger windshield for safer vision. This is another standard feature throughout Plymouth's 1938 line, which includes eight "deluxe" and three "business" body types. All measure 194 inches from bumper to bumper.

New Chrysler On Display

1938 Plymouth Model Also Being Exhibited At Tourist Garage

John A. Dugan of the Tourist Garage, Chrysler-Plymouth dealer for this county, today makes formal announcement of these two new 1938 lines of cars. One of each of the new car types was placed on display in the showrooms at the Tourist Garage Sunday; they are the Chrysler Royal 4-door sedan and the deluxe Plymouth 4-door sedan. Already, according to Mr. Dugan, many interested Placerville and El Dorado County motorists and prospective car owners have been in to see them.

"Our sales organization," says Mr. Dugan, "composed of two well-known local men, Glenn D. Stevens and Sweeney, have familiarized themselves with the new cars, very thoroughly, and are in a position to explain the many new features appearing in the 1938 models."

Radical changes in exterior appearance, greatly refined and beautified interiors, larger and more powerful engines of improved design, longer wheel bases, larger hydraulic brakes and a score of mechanical refinements and improvements feature the two new cars comprising the Chrysler line for 1938. These cars again are designated as the Chrysler Royal and Chrysler Imperial, respectively.

The Chrysler Royal, with which Chrysler again will bid for business in the low-price field has been increased in wheelbase from 116 to 119 inches. Whatever the change in the price of this model it will preserve its relative competitive position. It comes in ten body styles as follows: four-door sedan, four door touring sedan, brougham, touring brougham, convertible coupe, convertible sedan, rumble seat coupe and coupe on the 119-inch wheelbase and seven-passenger sedan and sedan-limousine on a special 136-inch chassis.

Hailed as the outstanding model in the company's ten-year career, the new Plymouth challenges comparison with cars far above its own price class for exceptional riding performance.

The New Yorker, you will want to read "Let Your Mind Alone." Thurber knows how to combine mirth and matter delightfully. And don't think that he is making fun of serious things for, after all, too many of these "how to live" books that are flooding the book marts today are about as profitless as water in a sieve.

"Your Money or Your Life" by Gilbert Seldes tells how the pocket book of the average citizen is affected by public questions. In "The Good Society" Walter Lippman writes a thought-provoking book for the serious reader. And last of all, though not least in value, let us recommend "Homegrown" by Della Lutes, she of "The Country Kitchen" fame. This book is said to contain some of the most succulent eating in modern print.

ance and in style appointments for greater comfort and luxury.

The 1938 Plymouth sets a new standard of quietness and smoothness, ever beyond last year's model that was noted for its "hushed" rides. More than a score of new engineering improvements climax Plymouth's first decade of building great cars.

Plymouth's jubilee car again features unusual size and roominess, with ample space for six passengers in all sedan models. Inches of extra shoulder room, head room and leg room are provided by its big all-steel body of safety design, built by the pioneers in this method of construction.

Overall length of all models is 194 inches, from bumper to bumper. The complete Plymouth line for 1938 includes three "business" and eight "Deluxe" body types—all on 112-in. wheel base with L-head engine of 82 horsepower.

22nd S. F. AUTO SHOW OPENS SATURDAY, OCTOBER 30

SAN FRANCISCO, (UP)—With the opening of the Twenty-second Annual Pacific Auto Show set for next Saturday, October 30, San Francisco dealers and exhibitors are working at fever pitch to surpass each other in excellence and attractiveness of their exhibits. Never before in the long history of automobile shows here has a more interesting or more colorful display of automobiles been planned.

The fact that Paul Whiteman, hailed everywhere as the "King of Modern Music," is going to be on the stage with his world-famous orchestra, indicates that from an entertainment standpoint the show will be tops during the week in the San Francisco amusement field.

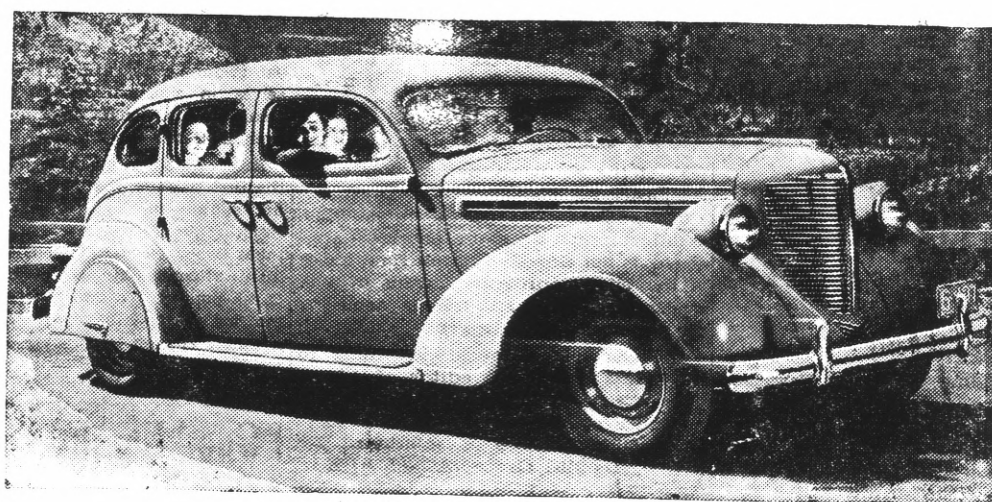

LeRoy Spencer, manager of Earle C. Anthony, Inc., and president of the Motor Cales Dealers Association, predicts that attendance records at the forthcoming San Francisco Auto Show will set a new high.

Horses "No Savvy" Orders Of Indian Owners

CAUGHNAWAGA, Que., (UP)—Farmers on the Indian settlement here suspect that the Canadian government has outsmarted them in a horse trade.

The Department of Indian Affairs recently arranged to sell horses to the Indians on the installment plan to enable them to cultivate their lands. The tribesmen complain that the horses are useless because they cannot understand the Indian language.

Cougars Bow To Sutter Creek

four downs to push the ball through the Cougar line, the fourth down finding the ball six inches over the goal line. An attempted drop kick for for extra point failed and the Herd had a 6-0 lead.

The Sutter Creek lead did not last long, for the Cougars came right back with a score. Taking the ball on their own 36 the Cougars marched to the Sutter Creek 34 when the quarter ended. A minute after the start of the second quarter the locals crossed the Sutter Creek goal. On the first play in the second quarter Ward tossed a pass to Carsten, good for twenty-one yards, to put the ball on the 13 yard line, from where two running plays carried the pigskin to the six. Stan Gardner went the remaining distance on a line plunge to tie the score, as the conversion try failed.

Battling even until two minutes before half time, Sutter Creek scored again on the second Cougar mistake. Standing on his own 49 yard line, Lajonga shot a 40-yard pass to his right half back who walked the remaining nine yards to score. The pass receiver had no one within twenty-five yards when he took Lajonga's toss. The conversion was good and the Thundering Herd had a half time lead of 13-7.

The third quarter had barely started when the Cougars made the third mistake and Sutter Creek its third touchdown. With the ball on their own twenty-yard line, and after being held for one play, a crossed-up signal resulted in no one in the backfield taking the pass from center, the ball rolling to the one-yard line where it was recovered by Sutter Creek, the Cougar line held on the first play, but the second found Lombardo going over for another score. Again the conversion failed.

The Cougars' fourth mistake was a repetition of their second, leaving a Sutter Creek pass receiver in the clear to take a 35-yard toss from Lajonga, and then carry the ball eleven yards to score. This mistake came in the third quarter and gave the home team a 25-6 lead.

The final Sutter Creek score was made on a pass from Lajonga to his right half which netted sixty-three yards and a score.

The Cougar line again showed up well, holding a much heavier team to 103 yards from scrimmage.

Sutter Creek made a total of 268 yards, 155 coming from their four completed passes. The Cougars gained a total of 139 yards with most of it being made through the Sutter Creek line. Sutter Creek made 8 first downs, the Cougars six. The locals lost the ball on downs once, as did Sutter Creek.

An intensive two weeks practice session looms for the Cougars as Brown hopes to do that, which at this stage looks doubtful, beat Sonora.

Former Forester Warns Against Proposed Reorganization

Warning of an attempt to destroy the usefulness of the Forest Service was sounded today by Hon. Gifford Pinchot, former Governor of the state of Pennsylvania, and the nation's first forester, in accepting an invitation to speak at the Twelfth Annual Meeting of the California State Chamber of Commerce, set for Los Angeles, October 28-29.

Governor Pinchot will speak on the Federal Reorganization plan, which would transfer the Forest Service, and other bureaus, from the Department of Agriculture to the Department of the Interior, renamed Department of Conservation. He states that the plan is to remove the administration of our forests, and much else in the field of agriculture, and place it in a new unitary department, removing at the same time the protection and safeguards that the Forest Service has been giving our farmers.

Governor Pinchot is coming to California, and to the State Chamber meeting, because he feels that the matter is of such importance and of such vital concern to California and the West, that the proposed change must be brought out in the open.

Under the head of Government Reorganization, both the Conservation and the Agriculture sections of the State Chamber will discuss the move, on the opening day of the two day meet, October 28. Governor Pinchot will address the entire assembly, and reports of both committees will be presented to the State Chamber Board of directors for their action on the second day, October 29.

A. J. McFadden, California State Chamber of Commerce president, will preside at all general meetings.

Oh, Boy! $100 Worth Of 'Jellybeans'!

CALGARY, (P)—King for a day was the story of a 13-year-old Calgary boy which ended tearfully in the juvenile court here.

The youngster found a wallet containing $158 in cash and checks amounting to $183. When he appeared in court the checks were intact but the cash had been reduced by nearly $100.

Marin County has been recommended for classification as a modified accredited area for tuberculosis.

1913 NICKEL WORTH $650 TO SCHOOLBOY; ONLY 5 WERE MINTED

MEXIA, Tex. (P)—The last of the 1913 Liberty head nickels was out of circulation today and the owner, 13-year-old Carroll Wade, was considering an offer of $650 for it.

The boy had a hunch that his coin might be valuable because he had never seen one like it, and for a good reason. So he took it to a bank and asked the teller about it. Bankers recognized the treasure and called a numismatist in Fort Worth, who promptly offered to pay 13,000 times the face value of the coin.

The expert said only five 1913 "Liberty Heads" were minted, that three of them were in the Metropolitan Museum, one was lost at sea, and this was the last of them.

Carroll retrieved his nickel and took the offer under advisement.

Pipe Floated Into Place On Lake Erie Job

CLEVELAND, (UP)—Engineers, faced with the problem of laying more than 500 yards of heavy steel pipe in Lake Erie, accomplished their task by floating the pipe to its resting place.

Sections of the pipe were coupled together in 120-foot lengths. Water-tight couplings were used and each end was sealed with an airtight cap. Then floating cranes dragged the pipe lengths out over the water.

The caps on the sections were removed and the pipe sink into the trench dug for it. Estimated cost of the job, handled by the municipal engineering department, was $15,000.

The Shasta County Farm Bureau will ask an injunction to prevent enforcement of the pig vaccination law.

This & That

By The Tattletale

Because of the splendid cooperation given by El Dorado County to the Red Cross Flood Relief drive last year (during which over $700 was raised) the organization has decided not to conduct their membership drive as they did last year—that is, a door-to-door canvass. Instead, they are planning to conduct a booth at the County Fair at which members may sign up. There are between seven and eight hundred members in the county now and it is hoped to increase the number this year. The yearly dues are one, five, ten or twenty-five dollars, depending on the individual, half of which remains in the county. There is little need to recount here the various services rendered by the Great Mother but it is of importance to note that $100,000 worth of medical supplies have recently been sent to China. The Red Cross will maintain a first aid corps during the fair as well as maintain the membership booth. Mrs. Edwin Smith and Mrs. Ruby Allen are in charge of the drive.

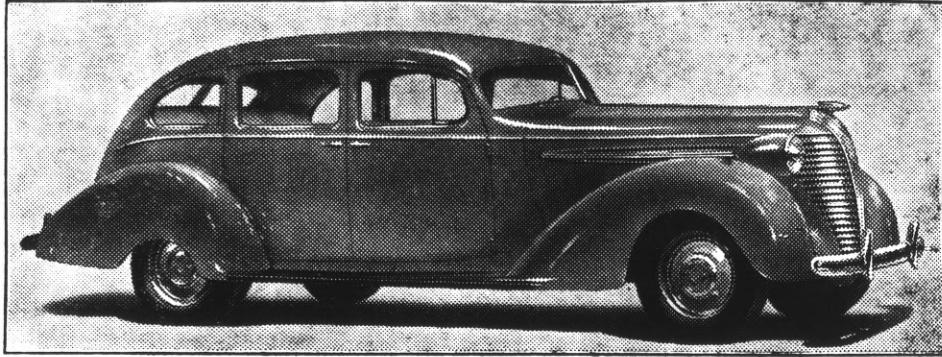

WOW! Does our face assume scarlet hues. Our football predictions (according to the glass crystal) weren't all they should be since we only got two out of four. But we have a system now (the glass crystal is OUT) — winners of Saturday's football games will be announced Friday night in this column.

Things we never knew 'till today: Over 22,000 bridges have been built in this country by the CCC... Hailstones almost never occur between sunset and sunrise (have you ever seen one?)... Gasoline in Palestine costs nearly fifty cents a gallon—one half of which goes to the government (and we crab about ours)... Thirty years ago a Brazilian Academy started a dictionary of the Portuguese language and has not as yet completed the words beginning with "A"... Negroes of a certain section in Louisiana believe they can cure hay fever by catching and swallowing lightning bugs (want to try it?)... The president of the United States cannot accept gifts from foreign countries without special authority from Congress... The beech is the slowest of trees to grow—taking nearly two hundred years to reach a diameter of eighteen inches... The average five-year old child knows over two thousand words... Black cars are preferred by car thieves much more than grey or green ones — and more sedans than roadsters or coupes (they're choosy)... The first brewmasters known to man were women!... and that's all we learned today.

Probably the most rapidly advancing new industry today and the one likeliest to go much farther is air conditioning. Though theatres and restaurants have had air conditioning for several years now, many other places are rapidly being sold on the idea. Railroads spent more than fifty million dollars to air condition 6,000 passenger cars in less than three years. It is predicted that all new automobiles will have air conditioning by 1941 and several companies have models for private homes which sell for as low as fifty dollars. An interesting sidelight on this comes from water engineers who estimate that water supply plants will have to be altered to meet the increased demand for the new units are expected to multiply the water consumption of the nation ten times within the next five years!

John Holliday was in town Saturday from Camino, greeting old friends and attending to business matters.

PETRIFIED FOREST FOUND IN WASHINGTON BY CCC ENROLLEES

VANTAGE, Wash., (UP) — A forest buried 15,000,000 years ago and brought to light recently from underneath tons of basalt ranks this small desert town as an interesting point of the West.

Twenty-eight miles east of Ellensburg, Wash., on the shoulder of the gorge carved by the Columbia river in its passage to the sea, shovels of geologists and CCC workers have uncovered trees of more than 30 varieties—all turned to solid stone by the lava that flowed over them in a prehistoric era.

The 7,000-acre area where the solidified logs have been found is named Ginkgo Petrified Forest, for among the approximately 5,000 stone logs it is estimated to contain, there has been uncovered a petrified Ginkgo tree, one of a species considered as native only in Western China.

1937 CROP APPLICATIONS COMPLETED IN THREE COUNTIES

Survey of the applications in the crop phase of the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program in Alpine, El Dorado and Calaveras Counties has been completed and the applications are being forwarded to Berkeley, according to B. E. Haslam, secretary.

The Amador applications will be completed early next month.

Mr. Haslam states that an effort has been made to contact all participants in the program.

Preliminary applications on the range program have been completed and it is expected that inspections will be started about December first.

Most Phillip and Levi cing peaches from Placer county will go to the canneries.

MILLION DOLLAR FAIR BUILDING PROGRAM CONTEMPLATED

SACRAMENTO — Plans to lift the California State Fair to the level of an annual California World's Fair Exposition moved swiftly forward here when the Board of Directors outlined a million dollar expansion program.

The project will be submitted to Gov. Frank F. Merriam and Finance Director Arlin E. Stockburger. With their approval expected, construction is scheduled to start as soon as state architects can complete drawings already under way.

Secretary-Manager Robert Muckler announced that baring unforeseen events, the buildings will be ready for the 1938 Fair, September 2 to 11.

Building details and costs are still in the estimate stage. However, preliminary figures show that probable expenditures will be Administration Building $98,000; Grandstand Extension $147,000; Dairy Products Building $33,000; Assembly Hall $225,000; Future Farmers of America Building, $200,000; 4-H Club Building $200,000; Education Building $200,000; Landscaping, etc., $50,000. This totals $1,153,500.

Pastor Offers To Resign

that we know about it at this time." Rev. Morehouse addressed the following letter to the congregation:

"Dear Friends:
"Technically, concurring in my resignation as pastor can only be voted upon by the Presbyterian congregation. But it is my request that the whole congregation to which I minister, namely members, contributors, and those in more or less regular attendance, vote together as a unit, without discussion or argument, at a regularly called meeting at the close of the morning service, Sunday, October 31, 1937.

"Virtually what I desire is an acceptance of my resignation or a vote of confidence. I have no complaint to make. I have been satisfied to do that work that I believe God has called me to do and am willing to continue in that work in spite of obstacles and opposition if it is your will, but under the circumstances I do not feel that I can continue to endeavor to do so without an expression of consent on the part of a considerable majority of those to whom I minister."

Cattle-Freight Plan In Canada Extended

DENVER (UP)—A new use of the age-old cattle branding system was discussed here in a meeting of more than 200 ranchers and peace officers assembled to launch a drive against modern motorized cattle rustling.

In a series of resolutions adopted at the meeting, one of the most important involved the creation of a "non-forgeable bill of sale," within which the replica of the brand to be incorporated, to be drawn up by the state brand inspection department.

"Rustlers are forging bills of sale right along," Henry Bledsoe, Colorado Springs, Colo., cattleman who sponsored the resolution, told the assemblage. "Some of the bills of sale used by legitimate stockmen are worthless as far as providing a description of the cattle is concerned."

"I saw a bill of sale recently for four head of cattle. It described the animals only as 'two branded and two unbranded cattle.'"

"We can work out a bill of sale which cannot be forged by adapting our brand system to the bill of sale form and by requiring two witnesses to every document."
